NEXT	Moves the user to the immediately following declaration tab. Before moving forward, complete the mandatory fields required by the current tab. Data already entered should remain available while navigating through the declaration	Use this button to proceed in sequence after the current tab has been completed.

Successful validation and submission are confirmed by notifications.	Submission should be performed only after reviewing the Summary and confirming the declaration details.

5. Validation Requirements

- All fields marked with * should be treated as mandatory.
- Mandatory declaration information should not accept blank or whitespace-only values where text input is required.
- The user should complete the required fields on the current tab before proceeding when the application enforces tab-level validation.
- PREVIOUS should return to the immediately preceding declaration tab without submitting the declaration.
- NEXT should move to the immediately following declaration tab and should preserve information already entered on previous tabs.
- Invalid, incomplete, or inconsistent declaration data should prevent successful final submission.
- Validation messages should be displayed clearly and should identify the field or section that requires correction.
- SAVE DRAFT should save the current declaration without final submission and should display a clear Draft Saved confirmation message.
- SUBMIT DECLARATION should perform final validation before the declaration is submitted.
- If validation fails, the declaration should remain available for correction and should not be treated as successfully submitted.
- Successful validation and submission should provide clear confirmation notifications to the user.
- After successful submission, the declaration should be visible in the IPT Declaration Management list with the appropriate status.
